Dear «Contact_Title» «Last_Name»

Would you even consider using an out-of-the box accounting system or an outmoded financial infrastructure to manage your company in this economy? That would be as foolish as riding a tricycle on Chicago's expressways, don't you agree?

When your inventory is outdated, your invoicing is stalled, collections of receivables are out of control, or your planning, forecasting and compliance issues are based on incomplete data, you risk the very existence of your company.

The continued success of «Company__» depends on your keen awareness, sound judgment, and resourcefulness. You need accounting and technical resources that fit your company's current and future needs. You need straight answers regarding economy and efficiency. You need products and services developed specifically for «Company__»'s unique challenges. You need accounting methods that can grow with you with a minimum of expense and interruption of business.

Elocin.net understands that. We'd like to introduce you to ACCOUNTMATE, a real-time, customizable business management and accounting solution designed to meet your every need – even in the most challenging of economies. It offers:

- Modifiable source code. ACCOUNTMATE adapts to the way you do business.
- Network-ready: ACCOUNTMATE is capable of supporting hundreds of simultaneous users.
- Unlimited database capabilities: ACCOUNTMATE eliminates concerns about handling rapid growth and archiving your company's history.
- Drill down analysis: ACCOUNTMATE permits instantaneous viewing of cash flow details.

What does this mean for you? ACCOUNTMATE is much more than a standard accounting program. It is an entire system of solutions specifically designed for your unique company and your particular needs. With ACCOUNTMATE you'll be able to manage all aspects of your business using seamlessly structured modules that are tightly integrated to give you complete control over your unique manufacturing processes in real time.

ACCOUNTMATE modules allow you to:

- Manage your production data from raw materials to finished goods.
- Oversee your business processes in real time.
- Monitor the progress of each work order and plan capacity levels at each work center.
- Identify and resolve production bottlenecks when they occur.
- Integrate Material Requirements Planning and Forecasts and Material Safety Data Sheet compliance with greater accuracy.
- Link and Incorporate CRM, AR, AP, POS, Transaction Management and other key modules easily, when needed.
- Invest only in the technology that fits your company's needs for greatest cost efficiency.

ACCOUNTMATE is a truly powerful vehicle for managing your corporate success. But the real question is how well it suits your individual needs. Let's arrange a free 2-hour evaluation of your current and future needs and put ACCOUNTMATE to the test. Simply call 708.231.8254 or fax/mail back the enclosed request form. There's no obligation, no pressure.

We look forward to helping you drive your company's future growth and development.

Respectfully,

Carlos Orué
President
